

ISSARA INSTITUTE

JOB DESCRIPTION | BUSINESS & HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICER

Job Title:	Business & Human Rights Officer / Senior Business & Human Rights Officer
Duration:	1 year, with possibility of extension
Responsible to:	Country Director
Duty Station:	Bangkok, Thailand

BACKGROUND

Issara Institute is an independent non-profit organization based in Southeast Asia and the United States tackling human trafficking and forced labour from the lens of business and human rights. The Institute was established in 2014 by a team of anti-trafficking experts coming out of the United Nations who created an alliance of private sector, civil society, and government partners committed to transformational, sustainable, worker-driven approaches to labour issues, especially those occurring in global supply chains. It is staffed by leading regional and international experts in labour rights, business and human rights, and research and technology.

We believe that, together, we can transform the lives of tens of millions of workers through worker voice, partnership, and innovation – that sustainable systems driving more ethical labour recruitment and working conditions are vital to the future of workers individually and collectively, to equity and fairness across supply chains, and to sustainable poverty alleviation efforts.

POSITION SUMMARY

This position focuses on engaging local and global businesses to become more socially responsible and competitive through strengthened labour practices. Issara takes an innovative approach to working with Thai companies, leveraging data, technology, and partnership with global brands and retailers to help strengthen recruitment and labour management practices across supply chains. This is a unique, exciting opportunity to work with a wide range of businesses and industries, from leading national brands to small processors and farmers, at all tiers of the value chain.

The ideal candidate will be able to balance maintaining a relationship with businesses while advancing the rights and voice of local and migrant workers. The candidate will be analytical, organized, and able to work both on teams and independently. Program management and private sector experience is preferred, as is training and facilitation ability and strong writing skills. The individual must be able to professionally present information to a range of stakeholders and be comfortable balancing data and information from a range of sources while upholding and advancing the rights of workers and the standards of international buyers.

SCOPE OF WORK

The BHR Officer will play an integral role on the Business & Human Rights Team, which carries out Issara's supply chain improvement-oriented work. Through this work and collaboration with Issara's Outreach and Empowerment team, the Officer will have a rare opportunity to work with leading Thai businesses across the country, helping them to strengthen their ethical and responsible sourcing and recruitment.

Specific aspects of the scope of work include:

1. Inclusive Labour Monitoring (ILM)

- Build and maintain productive relationships with Thai businesses and industries in Strategic Partner supply chains, from large seafood processors and garment factories to fishing vessels and farmers.
- Work on labour-related issues, risks, and remediation, providing technical support to strengthen grievance mechanisms, labour recruitment processes, and other business systems related to human resource and production management. This includes ongoing coordination with Thai business on worker voice and corrective actions, and monitoring of progress on remediation.
- Collect and analyse business information, in coordination with other Issara teams.
- Ensure up to date and comprehensive entry of information – related to ongoing business response and remediation and also business profile/background – in the ILM internal data system.

2. Ethical Recruitment

- Project manage Ethical Recruitment work plans as a part of supplier engagement, ensuring timely scheduling of events and production of deliverables.
- Coordinate with Thai businesses on ongoing recruitment of workers and recruitment practice, and share updates and analysis with all Issara teams in a documented and organized manner.

3. Supplier Engagement

- Organize a variety of supplier engagement activities, including workplace assessments, worker satisfaction surveys, recruitment systems surveys, tailored trainings, and coordination of outreach and training activities with workers and interpreters.
- Serve as an Issara Academy trainer for Thai businesses and the business and human rights multi-stakeholder community in Thailand, assisting with content updating and new policy research as needed.
- Work with the team to deliver tailored trainings on business and human rights for firm-level supplier management, HR staff, line managers, supervisors, and others.
- Support the creation of Thai-language resource materials, analytical briefs, and practical tools for local business partners.
- Conduct webinars for multi-stakeholder audiences, including business, government, industry associations, CSOs, etc.

4. Outreach and Support to Thai Workers

- Support running the Thai worker voice channels, including running the Thai language helpline and responding to Thai workers (and others) on Thai language social media.
- Drive the creation of Thai-language resource materials relevant to Thai workers.

5. Analysis, Reporting and Coordination

- Coordinate with working level Thai government officers on an ongoing basis, building relationships for their participation in multi-stakeholder events, confirmation of government policies, and practical coordination on remediation cases.
- Participate in relevant external events on BHR issues, including those on the Thailand seafood and fishing sector, and provide relevant information, analysis and translation to all Issara teams.

Senior Business and Human Rights Officers will be involved in the above, plus:

5. Analysis, Reporting and Coordination

- Coordinate with senior level Thai government officials on an ongoing basis, building relationships for their participation in multi-stakeholder events and higher-level public-private sector policy dialogues.
- Ensure knowledge management of all relevant business and industry information, including translations of main government policies and other relevant analysis, and industry trends.
- Support ongoing analysis of business information, both publicly available and through Issara's ILM data system, and the development of external analysis and research products.

REQUIRED SKILLS & EXPERTISE

We have a lean, dynamic, seasoned team that is committed to change, innovation, and impact. We are conscientious, hold a high standard of care for the people we serve, and understand that we have to be able to work effectively with partners spanning the largest multinational corporations to the smallest grassroots CBOs. Our work ecosystem is multicultural, respectful, and energetic, whether we are working on tasks in teams, or working alone from home. The Business & Human Rights Officer should have:

- Minimum 6-8 years of working experience from either the private sector, government, and/or international or national organizations (NGOs).
- Master's degree in international development, business, area/social sciences, human rights, and/or law.
- Fluency in English and Thai, with excellent written and verbal communication skills.
- Strong account management and project management.
- Experience working in a professional, multicultural environment.

- Must be able to handle confidential data with discretion.
- Strong facilitation and training skills, be comfortable with presentation and public speaking, and be committed to supporting both local businesses and their employees.
- Willing to travel within Thailand and regionally.
- Desirable skills and experience include business and human rights; supply chain and ethical sourcing; sustainability; CSR; business management / consulting.

If you are interested in applying for this position, please send a CV, the names and contact details of three references, and a cover letter explaining your interest in the position and relevant expertise to admin@issarainstitute.org. Please note a cover letter specific to motivation and relevance for this position is required for consideration.